

Consider a regular maintenance program as insurance to protect the life of your pool and equipment.

A regular maintenance program can provide the following benefits to the new pool owner.

PREVENTION

Regular check ups or visits allow the pool shop and service department to come to you. This is usually done on a monthly basis, but can be as frequent as fortnightly and weekly during the peak swimming season.

Generally it is organised as required to achieve the best possible performance for your pool water quality and equipment function.

Your pool service technicians, performing the regular maintenance visits, are SPASA trained and qualified to service and repair your new swimming pool and equipment investment.

Filtration equipment performance and new finish protection can be enhanced with regular check ups, to correct faults before expensive replacement is required.

HEALTHY LONG LIFE

Correct water balance and salt levels are required to maintain healthy water for bather comfort, sanitiser performance and equipment protection. Many new rendered pool interior finishes require strict chemical level control to ensure the maximum life expectancy and good looks are retained. Regular visits by a SPASA trained pool technician will achieve this task and will provide the correct mineral and salt additions, "no more and no less" to save wastage and the storage of bulk and hazardous chemicals.

Your maintenance program can be tailored to the use of the pool and spa, more frequently during the swimming season to achieve the maximum use from the weather conditions, but still maintaining regular visits during the off season when neglect can cause unseen equipment and interior pool surface damage.

ALWAYS READY

Your new swimming pool and spa is an entertainment area and your family and friends deserve to have a healthy and safe environment to enjoy for the maximum time that the good weather conditions allow. The pool can be kept in tip top condition to be always ready when the hot weather hits or the special pool party is arranged. The best advice on heating your pool is readily available to save time and money, but most importantly to get the most use from your pool and spa.

Pool systems are becoming more sophisticated with automatic control units, heating systems, and filtration and dosing systems installed. Regular checkups like your car maintenance, ensure that the chance of breakdown is dramatically reduced. However, if something does fail, attention is usually super quick, as your SPASA trained pool professional is intimately acquainted with your systems operation and is dedicated to return the pool back to full operation.
